I'm glad you were able to call into the conference line.

It sounds like you have an interesting project, and yes, any issues with the Subpart X units would be appropriate to bring up on the call. Our group has discussed your project. (Mike Galbraith is on our Team.)

As you are aware at EPA, you will wear many hats and probably be involved with open burning/open detonation at some time. It is actually a great, interesting project. We need more expertise in the Regional offices too.

Yes, you should get to know Harry. He is a wealth of knowledge and provides a lot of information to our group.

Thanks for checking Terri, yes I am on the call. I used my personal cell. I think it was just a problem with my EPA cell. I rebooted it and now it is working too.

I am kind of new for this Subpart X related work in R10, in the RCRA program, with a background from the Air Program. It sounds like I need to get to know Harry Craig better, sounds like he has a great deal of experience. I find all of these issues very interesting but I do not have any projects currently that are OBOD units. I have assigned to me the INL Integrated Waste Treatment Unit, it is a steam reforming process permitted as a Subpart X unit, with EEE like requirements. Also a unit that might be permitted in OR for Chem Waste that is a Thermal Desorbing unit, involved in some recycling, but with some non-condensable gasses going to a flare, there is some debate about applicability to EEE, but the way the state and the facility, with some blessing from headquarters plan to proceed is to permit it as a subpart X unit with EEE limits and requirements. Are those topics that I should mention on this call if I have questions that come up, it really seems very heavily focused on OBOD? I can imagine with my background that I might get involved with OBOD eventually.
